To whom it may concern,

Mr Michael Hill, Director Neumode Design & Construction Pty Ltd has asked me to provide a reference and I do so without reservation.

I have had professional dealings with Michael over the last four years. His company performed the extension and renovation of my private residence. He managed the entirety of our project and provided practical and insightful advice. He also performed a major project on my neighbour's property.

He was unsurpassed in his attention to detail during the quotation process and provided clear explanations to queries. This continued throughout and even after the duration of the renovation with prompt and unreserved attention to any issues. As my builder, Michael was readily approachable – we spoke, emailed and met regularly.

Michael has exacting standards, an eye for detail and true pride in his product – these qualities are ultimately reflected by the quality of Neumode workmanship.

Michael is professional, trustworthy, approachable and communicates clearly – put simply, he is a credit to the building industry.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Simon Forehan
